ABORIGINAL FAMILY HISTORY

The Tasmanian Aboriginal Genealogical and Historical Association

Submitted by Rod Drysdale

It is because many young Aboriginal people are forced to drop more of their cultural traditions, as well as the fact that our older people with knowledge of the past are leaving us, that this Association was formed.

The founding members are a mix of Tasmanian and Mainland Aboriginal people from every area of the State including the Bass Strait islands. All are dedicated to the collection and preservation of Aboriginal culture for the future generations of Australian Aboriginal children.

We have two main areas of interest, the first being the collection and recording of family genealogies and the second being the historical aspect of Aboriginal Australia.

The genealogical section is interested in obtaining family trees and genealogies for access by future generations of Aboriginal children. Our concern is that some of the information collected and published in the past was not entirely correct. We are now working on correcting as much as possible in order that people making enquiries in the future will be given the right details. We are presently able to provide a significant amount of information to families in the process of tracing their own family background.

The historical aspect of the Association deals with all areas of Aboriginal history, both mainland and Tasmanian. Included in this broad area, is culture, language, art, religion, tools, any archaeological sites, stories of events and people, in fact the whole range of possible aspects under history and culture.

It is hoped that by piecing together much of the knowledge held by Aboriginal people in the community we will be able to provide a strong centre for cultural identity within Tasmania.

THE MOLLISON GENEALOGIES

Early this year Bill Mollison agreed to make his entire collection of genealogical information, including letters and notes, available to this Association for its own use. He stated that he was aware that the works contain many mistakes and can only be corrected with the cooperation of the Aboriginal people themselves.

When asked how it was possible that so many mistakes were present, he stated that: "Much of the information was provided by family members themselves. People were relying on memory or what somebody else had told them. Much of that information was found to be incorrect." He went on to say: "I don't believe that printing the genealogies was a bad thing though. What it did was start the ball rolling, even though it was not all correct." It is important for Aboriginal people to find their identity and I believe that this sort of thing helps. Aboriginal people can now continue and hopefully fix up those mistakes. "

PROBLEMS WITH EARLY RECORDS

Searching through official records for family information can be a very frustrating exercise, especially if you are looking for a name like Hearps, for example. Supposing the period you are searching is 1845, the individual is Harry Hearps. The owner of that name cannot read or write and therefore cannot tell whether his name is recorded correctly or not, and he married Hellen Hungerford - also illiterate.

The recorder would ask for both names and would probably write down the following:

Arrey, Larry or Harry EARPS married Ellen UNGERFUD.

Many of the early ancestors did not speak the Queen's English and most had a habit of dropping their hs.

Another problem with official records is the fact that many people didn't actually know how old they were and just took a stab at it when asked. Also many young men put their ages up when they got married. Some 18 year olds were 21 while some were "over 21".

There are many more traps for the novice and mastering research is a patient business.

ARCHAEOLOGICAL INFORMATION

Some archaeological information has been trickling in on the location of Aboriginal sites and artifacts. It is our intention to retain this information until some of our other Aboriginal organisations, who are working on policies for such material and information, have come to a final agreement. Meanwhile we are still seeking information.

LANGUAGE

One of the aims of this Association is to encourage some official or private work on the Tasmanian languages. At the same time, offer as much support to mainland people who are trying to have maintenance done on their own languages. Recently a petition was circulated calling on the Federal Government to contribute funds to the establishment of a language co-ordinating centre. Such support is vital if we are to maintain our culture for succeeding generations.

Recordings of the Tasmanian languages have been taken to the mainland and shown to Josie Farrer from the Kimberly Language Centre in W.A. Josie and several other Aboriginal people studied the recordings (in books) and within minutes were picking out words which were common to most Aboriginal people. The individuals involved with Josie were from several different tribes and all spoke their own languages.

They confirmed that the languages recorded were genuine and that it would be possible to put together some workable sentences. They did agree that some of the spelling and interpretations were a little out, but that they could easily be corrected if it was done by Aboriginal people.

It is interesting to note that the writer has had several long arguments with professional white linguists on this point, and all but one stated that it would not be possible to do "anything at all" with the language. It would seem this is truly a matter for Aboriginal people to take up and correct. While others, whose profession it is to do such work have given up, the Aboriginal people still retain the eternal optimism which has allowed them to survive today.

GENERAL HISTORY AND STORIES

We are most interested in any bits and pieces of history or any stories which people might have. Even if it might appear insignificant it could be just the part of the jigsaw we have been waiting for. Whatever you might have and can write down, will be gratefully received. For example:
"My great grandfather had a farm below Kingston, near Oyster Cove, and I recall my grandfather saying that two Aboriginal families would come each winter and camp, one on each end of the verandah."

This might not seem much as far as information is concerned. However, it might be possible to identify those families and even find some sort of recorded information on them. Once it is established that someone did exist or that an event took place, it is possible to start searching for more information. A lead is all that is needed in some cases, and in this one we have a time period and a place. Others might know more, and slowly we can build up a profile.

PUBLICATIONS

The Association now has copyright to all of Bill Mollison's works. It is hoped that when the mistakes have been corrected, some genealogies will be republished. At present there is a strong request from the Briggs family to have their genealogies completed first. The task is a big one and we are doing our best, but at this stage we cannot say when any genealogies will be ready and which will be printed first.

SEARCH FEES

Our fees for searching are $5 per hour and a flat $5 for a computer print-out showing details of your family tree. There is a need to provide money for petrol for private vehicles, electricity, phone calls, computer paper, stamps and envelopes, plus other odd expenses. At times it is even necessary to engage outside professional genealogists to assist with research. We hope that people will understand there is a need for a small fee. You would always be advised when a fee would be required.

COMPUTER PRINTOUTS

There are two types of printouts that can be given. One is a simple line-type printout showing basic family details and the other is a much more detailed book type printout. When a printout is available for a family the cost is $5 for the line-type and a variable cost for the book.

Books are sold to individual family members and not published for general distribution. This arrangement suits the families who do not want their family details public knowledge. Also many details are often missing at the time of printing, which can be filled in later by those requesting the books.

Books can contain family and individual photos as well as a brief history on individuals if known. All requests for searches are confidential and our files are open only to members researching their own family tree.

I hope the information contained in these pages gives you some idea of what we do and why. We are always looking for support and are willing to help where possible.

The Tasmanian Genealogical and Historical Association is a registered Aboriginal Corporation under "The Aboriginal Councils and Associations Act 1976."

EDITOR'S NOTE:

We thank the Association for permission to publish this information from their newsletter, which they will send to us regularly in exchange for our journal.

President's Message

Firstly, I wish to draw the attention of members to the debt they owe to Doug Forrest for the work he did during the three years of his presidency of the Society. As a result of his efforts, the Society became incorporated and is in a sound financial position. Thank you, Doug, for a job well done!

Secondly, I know that members will join with me in wishing our Chief Librarian, Theo Sharples, a speedy recovery. Her expertise, dedication and guidance has been a major factor in the development of the Society's Library at Bellerive. Best wishes from us all, Theo!

Within the next few months, I intend visiting all branches to meet as many members as possible and to see at first hand the facilities available at the branch libraries. I hope the Society will assist and encourage the building up of resources held in each of the regional libraries, so that members will have increased opportunities to pursue their research. I will welcome members' comments, ideas or suggestions on this or other matters during my visits.

One of my aims is to foster closer ties between the branches. By embarking on a course of planned co-operation, I think there could be increased exchanges of resource materials and rationalisation of purchases. There is no reason why such co-operation should not lead to the growth of the Society in both numbers and stature.

To achieve this, I appeal for the support of all members. There is no easy path to instant success but a concerted effort from all members will achieve much and could lead to our Society becoming the most energetic and vibrant genealogical group in Australia.

Finally, I would like members to consider these few lines which I read recently -

The membership of most organisations is made up of four bones:

1. The WISHBONE who spend all their time wishing that someone else would do the work.
2. The JAWBONES who do all the talking but little else.
3. The KNUCKLEBONES who 'knock' what everyone else does.
4. The BACKBONE who carry the load and get everything done.

I know that the great majority of our members belong to the last category. Best wishes to all members for continued success with their research.

NEVILLE JETSON.

THE CHURCH OF JESUS CHRIST OF LATTER DAY SAINTS

Hobart Branch Genealogical Library

15 Elmsleigh Rd, (off Brooker Hwy), Glenorchy

Phone 72 9529 - 49 3970, POB 336, Glenorchy

Editor's Note: Mr Willy Scott, Librarian of the LDS Hobart Branch library, has kindly provided this information for us. For a complete description of the IGI see Neil Chick's article in "Tasmanian Ancestry" Vol 5, No 1. March 1984. This article will shortly be available as one of our "Research Notes" series, cost approx 50c.

The Genealogical department of the Church is a non-profit organisation supported primarily by the Tithing Funds of the Church. It is open to the public and there is no fee for using the research facilities, except a nominal charge to cover postage and copying.

The library is manned by volunteers, some full time, who are trained in research work. At the present time there are librarians working in the library who can read Danish, Norwegian, Swedish, German and Dutch.

The Genealogical Department has more than one and a half million rolls of microfilm as well as many thousands of books and microfiche at its headquarters in Salt Lake City, Utah. The majority of this material can be read right here in this library. This material is taken from vital records in many countries of the world, such as church or parish registers containing records of births, marriages, deaths etc., from census, military, probate records and many more.

These films are ordered from the main Australian depository in Sydney where some stocks are kept, especially from the British Isles. If the film is not in Sydney, it will be ordered from Salt Lake City. Once a film is in Australia it stays here. This library holds vital records from the mainland states but not from Tasmania, as the Tasmanian records are readily available at the local libraries and Archives in Hobart.

This library also holds the latest edition of the IGI.

Correspondence: The staff will be happy to assist people who are unable to visit the library. Please send your question to the above address with a self addressed, stamped envelope.

The Genealogical Society of Utah also invite the general public to participate in the worldwide "Family Register" (copy in this library) and the "Ancestral File" which is now being compiled. Contact this library for more information.

The International Genealogical Index (IGI)

This Index is compiled by the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter Day Saints, the 1984 edition contains 88 million names. A new edition is produced every 3 years and about 4 million names are added annually. There is no other genealogical research like it anywhere in the world and it is used by most researchers as the first steppingstone in compiling family histories. It can be used in the church's main library in Salt Lake City and in over 600 branch libraries in the world. It is also available in the libraries of most genealogical societies.

The names are collected from several sources, the main ones being:

1. Original records of births, christenings, marriages and deaths. They generally span a time period from 1500 to 1875. These names are collected and indexed by members of the church. The "Parish and Vital Records Listings" which is part of the IGI shows which records have been extracted, area and time period.
2. Selected names submitted by church members containing names of relatives and ancestors.
3. Special selected church and temple records.

The records are published on microfiche, small sheets of film containing about 22,000 names.

Each person is identified by parents or spouse as well as a place and time of event. There may be records of persons who have died recently. Generally christenings and marriages are recorded, but births are mostly recorded as christenings. If both birth and christening are given in the record, the christening is recorded on the IGI. Deaths are rarely recorded.

The IGI is an index only, and not a primary record. All information should be verified from the original source, which can be found by using the Batch number found against each name. By using the batch number index it is possible to obtain a photocopy from the original source which sometimes enables you to contact other members of your family who are doing research work. It is possible to obtain the original record on microfilm and read it at this library. Names are collected from more than 90 countries.

Why does the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter Day Saints spend so much money gathering genealogical records? And why do its members spend much of their time doing genealogical research?

The Church's primary interest in genealogical and family history stems from its deep concern for strong and lasting family relationships. Latter Day Saints believe that family life can be eternal, with family relationships continuing after death. Latter Day Saints identify family relationship and collect records of their ancestors as far back as they can trace them, then through sacred temple ordinances, these people are sealed together in families.

Introduction:

The IGI, formerly known as the Computer File Index (CFI), lists names found in the computer of the Genealogical Department of the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter Day Saints (Genealogical Society of Utah). It does not include all information known about an individual but it uniquely identifies each person and gives a batch number that can be traced to the original input source.

The IGI can be used for at least four purposes:

1. To find genealogical information
2. To avoid duplication in research
3. To determine if someone else is researching a given line.
This is done by noting the batch number in the last two columns. (Not all the names in the IGI were compiled through genealogical research. The name may have been simply extracted as part of an indexing project.)

Meetings are held on the last Thursday of each month at the East Devonport Primary School at 8pm. Visitors are welcome.

The library, Days Building, Best St, Devonport, is open Wednesday and Friday 12n-3pm.

We had a very large attendance at our May meeting when Heather Gale from the Jigsaw Group was guest speaker. The Group helps adoptees who are searching for their natural mothers.

The guest speaker for the June meeting was Mr Petts who gave a talk on calligraphy and illuminated writing.

HUON BRANCH

Since opening our library this year, the last three months have seen our Branch expand and take on a new look. We have been very fortunate in the guest speakers arranged for monthly meetings. The last guest speaker was Mr Villy Scott, who, with his wife, runs the L.D.S. Genealogical Library at 15 Elmsleigh Rd, Glenorchy. He talked on facilities available at his library and in particular the International Genealogical Index and how to use it.

In the new material available at our library, are bound copies of the Huon News from 1976-86. Cemetery records have been filed for easy access. We are lucky to have had two microfiche readers donated to us, and have purchased many varied books to help in research.

Filing of births, deaths and marriages still continues, and our thanks go to our librarian, Mrs Mavis Rumney, for all her work.

We are currently raising funds for the purchase of two microfilm readers, and hope to obtain births, deaths and marriages pre 1900's on microfilm in the near future.

Meetings are held on the second Monday of each month at 7.30 pm at our library, Ranelagh Hall, visitors welcome. Library hours open to the public are Saturday 2-4pm, and first Wednesday in each month from 10-12am.

SUE GOODE- Publicity Officer

LAUNCESTON BRANCH

Recently, the Launceston Branch examined the possibility of obtaining indexes to St Catherine's House records which will become available later this year. The records required will provide information on all births recorded in England and Wales between 1837-1900 and will enable Tasmanian residents to locate records of forbears born in those areas during that period.

At the present time, to obtain these particulars, the researcher must either visit St Catherine's House in London personally, or pay very high search fees for the information.

We suggest that our central location in Tasmania will provide reasonable access to all Tasmanians interested in using the indexes. Our library hours are being expanded to cater for increased demand at the present time and we are prepared to open by arrangement, particularly for researchers from country areas and other parts of the state.

The cost of purchasing the records will be more than this branch can bear at present. Although our fund raising committee is working hard, our fund raising target is $4000 which will purchase the birth records only. A similar amount would be required for marriage records at some time in the distant future.

We have now decided to ask members of the society and other interested persons if they would be prepared to make a donation to the Launceston Branch Library towards the purchase of the St Catherine's House birth indexes. These are in reels, each of which covers one quarter (3 mths) of a year. Each reel will cost seven English pounds which, at the current rate of exchange, will be approximately $15.

We have already been promised donations by some members and would like to provide everyone interested in genealogy with the opportunity to subscribe towards the purchase of the records. Any such donations will be tax deductible.

It is our intention to publish names of sponsors. Each person sponsoring the cost of one or more reels will be able to nominate the quarter(s) they might particularly require and we are prepared to provide that person with priority in the use of that reel(s) for a period of three months after its arrival. Every reel purchased will provide access to information that will not otherwise be available in this state. Your help would be very much appreciated. Donations to The Librarian, PO Box 1290, Launceston.

TOM LELLO - Librarian.

As a Bi-Centennial Project, Launceston Branch has extracted births, deaths and marriages from the Examiner newspaper from 1900-20. The one-line entries have been indexed by year, with double entries for marriages.

Volume 1 covers 1900-1910 and Volume 2 covers 1911-1920.

The first edition of Volume 1 has already been sold.

The cost of the second edition is $15 + pp.

The cost of the first edition of Volume 2 is $20 + pp.

Cost of packaging is 50c. Postage within Tas is $1.20.

Cost to other states as per weight, for Vol 1 or 2 or both ($\frac{1}{2}$ -2 kg).

Order through P.Harris, Launceston Branch, GPO Box 1290, Launceston.7250.

BURNIE BRANCH

The Burnie Branch members extend our congratulations and best wishes to Neville Jetson on his election as State President, and offer our full co-operation and assistance in the interest of the G.S.T. We have maintained good attendances at our monthly meetings, despite wintry conditions. We have new members attending, showing an interest and keenness which augers well for the branch.

Mr Fred Reid was our guest speaker in June and shared his knowledge of the Tasmanian shipping in past years. In July we were fortunate in having Mr Ivan Badcock bring his photographic equipment along and he took copies of any old photograph requested by members. A new enthusiasm has been aroused by the introduction of member participation at each meeting. Much discussion has taken place after roll call and individual questions. The new "Canon" reader/printer, along with micro fiche readers, have helped upgrade library researching. V. Scott from Latter Day Saints Church, visited Burnie in July and spoke to interested members on the facilities available at their Hobart library.

Members are looking forward to the seminar we are having on 23 August with Janet Reakes.

Our future speakers are listed:

- August 19 - Mr J. Curtis, on Latrobe

October 21 - Mr N. Jetson, GST Society
November 18 - Mrs Frances Travers on Research

Library Notes

BY John Marrison

First of all, it was to be Christmas, then it stretched to Easter; in the end it became July-Saturday 19th, to be precise, before the library was finally settled in and we could open the doors of our new home. Even then only after Herculean efforts by Neil and Lillian. They literally spent days in preparation, aided by the hard efforts of many other members, and in the process, saving the society a mint of money. Well done, everybody.

For those readers who do not know, the old Bellerive Post Office is situated just around the corner from our previous building in Percy St. It is on the corner of Cambridge Rd (the main shopping centre road) and Queen St. It is a handsome building of large sandstone blocks, sporting above a snappy white and green painted clock tower. Plenty of car parking is to be had opposite, behind the shops, at the water's edge.

So now we are finally "in", I take this opportunity to invite all society members to 'come on down' and look us over. After all, it's not only the Hobart branch library, but the Society library too. Therefore, EVERYBODY'S library. I can assure all of a hearty welcome. I hope you will enjoy the extra room and comfort.

The bad news is, the increased rental we now must pay. Here we have made a start towards increasing our revenue. Under the watchful eye of Joyce O'Shea, we have begun selling our monthly meeting raffle tickets at the library. In addition, Joyce has provided a trade table, and this has been quite popular. We still need more money, and any suggestions will be welcome.

Because of past book losses, we have been forced to adopt a system requiring all library users to deposit bags with the reception desk. We regret having to do this, but have no choice.

We are presently seeking additional index card drawers to house the thousands of cards now held in members' homes. We also need additional people to train as library assistants. Although, most often, we can scrape up three people for duty, at busy times a fourth assistant is sorely needed. So, what about it, Hobart members?? It doesn't matter if you are not a library expert, we'll train you to be one! Anyway, if you get stuck there are always others there to help.

For those members planning to use the library around Christmas, the following times have been suggested as holiday arrangements:

Closed from close of business Sat 13 Dec - reopening Wed 7 Jan. (These times are not definite yet.)

We hope to be able to offer our usual volunteer arrangement, at Christmas, of opening on demand on request from distant members.

Depending on the start of daylight saving, we look like opening Wed evenings from Wed 29 October, 7-9 pm.

By now, most people will have heard of the illness of Theo Sharples, the Society Chief Librarian and Hobart Branch librarian. It was sad for us to open our new premises without Theo's presence, and sage advice. We hope she makes a complete recovery soon, and is able to return to duty. In the meantime, her many duties have been spread between members. John Morrison acts as acting librarian (ph: 30 3988 during work hours and 44 2651 outside.) Ann Doble is in charge of administration of the library (ph: 48 9853). Audrey Weeding runs the library roster, (Ph: 72 8591).

Family Reunions

JOHNSON:JOHNSTON REUNION

October 29 1986, will be the 155th anniversary of the marriage of Thomas JOHNSON and Dalrymple (Dolly) Mountgarrett BRIGGS. They resided at Sherwood Lodge on the Railton Road near Latrobe, on the north west coast of Tasmania.

This will be the first reunion of their descendants, many of whom still live in Tasmania, although some are in other states or New Zealand.

Thomas and Dolly had 13 children, but not all reached maturity. Among the known surnames of their descendants, are HEARPS, GUYNE, WIGMORE, MOORE, GOMER, WRIGHT, ELMER, LEE, REES, WALKER, SELLERS, CAMPBELL, FRENCH, MORSE, DYSON, HAYWOOD/HAYWARD, BATES, BUTT, TEMPLER, COX, McCALLUM, RILEY, JONES, ANDREWS, ANDERSON, VINCENT, DINSDALE.

If you think you may be a descendant of any one of these names, and would like to attend the reunion, please contact: Mrs M. Hamilton, 399 Liverpool St, Hobart, 7000 or Phone 002-341214.

The reunion will be held at the Memorial Hall, Latrobe, Tasmania, on 2 November 1986.

CARINS FAMILY CENTENARY

It is hoped that about 200 members of this family will gather for a reunion at Myrtle Park on 1 November 1986.

On 3 November 1886, William and Mary CARINS and their four small children, arrived in Launceston, Tasmania, having sailed from London 78 days earlier on the 'Gulf of St Vincent'. The Carins family came originally from the Newcastle-on-Tyne area and there are several families there to this day. They can be traced back nearly 300 years - the spelling is distinctive to that locality.

William and Mary belonged to the Society of Friends (Quakers). They purchased 90 acres of land at Myrtle Bank in Northern Tasmania on the then road through Lisle to Scottsdale. William was a scholar rather than a farmer, and he opened his first school there with three other families and his own children. He later became lecturer in Assaying, Mineralogy and Chemistry at the Launceston Technical School and then a teacher with the Education Department.

Mary was a naturally gifted nurse and was virtually regarded as the local doctor, walking many miles with her homeopathic medicines and saving more than one life.

Of their seven children, the three girls all became teachers. Violet m George COOK and lived at Longford; Nell m Frank SAUNDERS and lived in Adelaide and Launceston for a time; Kate taught in several northern schools and died of typhoid aged 25.

The sons were all on the land. John was at Nabowla, Tom at Winnaleah, George at Longford and Will at Myrtle Bank.

ALLISON CARINS:MRS T.D.CARINS

COLGRAVE FAMILY REUNION

A reunion will be held on Sunday 9 November 1986 at the Evandale Hall. Descendants of Francis COLGRAVE and Isabella WATKINS(ON) who were married in 1842 at Evandale, are invited to attend.

Francis arrived on the 'Circassian' in 1833 after being sentenced to 14 years transportation for stealing. Isabella arrived on the 'Garland Grove' in 1841, having been sentenced to 7 years for stealing.

Their children were: Francis (1843), Samuel (1847), Henry (1849), William (1852), Robert (1857), Joshua (1859), Louisa (1863) m Frederick LEWIS, and Arthur (1866).

Next generation surnames include; LEWIS, DAVEY, RICHARDSON, MERRIT, THOMAS, BUTLER.

A draft family tree will be displayed in the hall, but information beforehand would be appreciated. Please contact: Miss Sue Wyatt (002)446604 (H) or 478398 (B)(Leave message - Sue will ring back) or Mrs H. Birchall 8 Zena Place, Hadspen, 7257.

SOCIAL HISTORY BOOKLETS

Anyone visiting Launceston should call in and have a look at the Macquarie House Museum. Apart from its intrinsic interest as a beautifully restored old warehouse and museum, it has an excellent 'shop'. Here we purchased several booklets on aspects of British social history - Occupational Costume, Laundry Bygones and The Cotton Industry, all well illustrated and giving a lot of detail. Cost approx $2.50. These were only three of a vast selection. Good buying for any Society libraries, as many are applicable to life in Australia, describing various occupations and crafts.

HUGUENOT, WALLOON OR FLEMISH

The Huguenot and Walloon Gazette is a non-profit making information sheet to enable genealogical researchers to exchange information, facts and pedigrees about their presumed Huguenot etc ancestors, and to assist them in finding proof. Enquiries to the Hon Editor, "Malmaison", Church St, Great Bedwyn, Wilts., SN8 3PE, U.K.

PHILLIMORE MISSING

Phillimore's Genealogical Index and Atlas is now missing from the Society's library. Would anyone who may have taken this without permission, please return it without delay. It is indispensable and costly as a reference book. (See later reference in these notes.)

PAQUETTE:PIQUETTE

Mr Wayne Paquette, 9636-151 St, Edmonton, Alberta, Canada T5P 1S4, is researching the origin and various meanings of the French Surnames Paquette and Piquette, and needs to know:-

- * whether the Piquette surname has its origin in the Paquette name, due to an alteration in Australia or New Zealand,
- * whether Piquette is associated with the phrase "to make a batch of wine that has gone bad, into a new batch of wine",
- * any other meanings associated with these surnames in Australia and N.Z.

OVERSEAS TOURS CO-ORDINATOR, FEDERATION OF FAMILY HISTORY SOCIETIES

Mr Alex Sampson, 1 Oxbang Close, Redcar, Cleveland, England, asks that all correspondence re visits to England should be sent to him and not to Pauline Saul, and advises that a lot of time and money can be saved by being well briefed before undertaking a 'genealogical holiday'. "It is in the interests of all visitors to this country to do their homework. One book I can thoroughly recommend is the Phillimore Atlas and Index of Parish Registers. It is rather expensive, but is invaluable for societies and libraries. The index is a must as it lists all the parishes in the country and tells you when each one started, where the records are and if they are on the IGI. Other relevant information is also given.

Mr Sampson has sent information about the Fourth British Family History Conference to be held 21-25 August 1987 at Aerystwyth, North Wales. A pre-conference study/holiday is also planned. Full details available from Mr T.L. Williams, 83 Farrar Rd, Bangor, Gwynedd, LL57 2DU. Please enclose 2 IRCs.

COMPUTERS & GENEALOGY

Genealogists are realising that computers have much to offer them when it comes to recording and processing information about their ancestors. The editorial panel of Tasmanian Ancestry would like to compile an article about individual experiences with computers. We are interested in your answers to such questions as:-

1. What computer do you use?
2. Did you write your own genealogical programme or buy one? What does it allow you to do?
3. What advantages or faults did you find in your bought programme?
4. Have you any interesting or humorous experiences to recount, or advice to offer?

If you can help by providing relevant information for a computer article please contact Robyn Manser, 10 Lambert Ave, Sandy Bay Hobart, Tas. 7005.

LIBRARY ASSISTANTS (See John Marrison's Library Report in this issue)

Please consider putting yourself on the roster for library duties. In this way, we can offer a better and perhaps more frequent library service. Library duty does not require expert knowledge - instead it is a wonderful way to learn about things, and to keep in touch with new films, fiches, books and journals. Like most genealogical societies, ours is run entirely on volunteer labour. Are you contributing anything, or are you just a passenger?

CLEVELAND FAMILY HISTORY SOCIETY

This Society covers the four districts of Langbaugh, Middlesbrough, Stockton and Hartlepool, on the north east coast of England. The latest branch to be formed is Whitby, closely connected with Captain James Cook. The Society has indexed the 1851 census for the whole area, and has other registers and indexes available. We exchange journals with them. The Secretary, Mr Alex Sampson, of 1 Duxgang Close, Redcar, Cleveland, TS10 4ND, writes: "We hear so many stories of how PDMS got their name, and would love to hear their version from any of your members!".

AUSTRALIAN HELLENIC HISTORICAL SOCIETY

This newly established society wishes to indicate its intention to organise an Historical Museum and a Greek-Australian Genealogical Society. The museum will house historical artefacts and memorabilia. As numerous Greek Australian families have already begun to search for their roots in this country, (no matter how recent their arrival), a Genealogical Society affiliated with the historical society and instituted along lines similar to the Australian Genealogical Society, will be established to assist with family research and to preserve information and material gathered. All correspondence to: Mr Tas Psarakis, 98 Stuart St, BLAKEHURST 2221 (Ph 02-546-2230).

GST RESEARCH NOTES SERIES

This series is now being updated and produced in attractive pamphlet form. The first production, by Lilian Watson and Neil Chick, is Research Note Series No. 7, Archives Office of Tasmania. The pamphlets will retail for approximately 50c. Also in the pipeline, is Neil's classic The International Genealogical Index (first printed in Tasmanian Ancestry, March 1984, Vol 5, No. 1.

CAMBRIDGESHIRE EMIGRANTS TO AUSTRALIA

Mrs J. Hurst of 11 Hawkesbury Drive, Fords Farm, Calcot, Reading, England writes:

"For some years now I have been compiling a list of Cambridgeshire emigrants to Australia, covering mainly the period 1840-1870, but including all years to 1900. Most of the information has come from shipping lists and therefore relates to assisted migrants as the records give their county of origin, but I am anxious to widen the coverage and would welcome letters from any of your members who know of any emigrants to Australia who came from the county of Cambridgeshire, either of their own volition or as convicts.

Kind friends in Australia have searched shipping lists on my behalf for the states of NSW, Victoria and S.A., but I know no-one in Tasmania and so particularly need more data regarding that state. Any information received will be gratefully acknowledged. Unfortunately I no longer live in Cambridge and so cannot do research in exchange, but I have access to the 1851 census for the county and could provide data from that.

I do operate a search service for my index and will send all the entries for a surname for a nominal charge of 2 Aus $ + 2 IRC (cheques in sterling or bills welcome), but of course would not charge anyone who was providing me with information.

I shall be most grateful if you could publish the relevant parts of this letter in your Journal."

Justification of Journals

by Joan Graney

The Family History Journals and those produced by the different Genealogical Societies in Australia and Great Britain, are well worth checking for vital clues about our ancestors.

I would like to commend the Cambridgeshire FHS for prompt replies and nominal costs. Their scheme of allotting specific members to specific areas of research, seems to work very well. Although the specific person I wanted, William Lindsay, could not be connected to those in their records, I was put in touch with someone researching the same line, resulting in new life to a seemingly dead end.

The Cambridgeshire FHS lists the following services.

1. Monumental Inscriptions
2. Cambridge Borough 1851 Census Index
3. Nonconformist Index
4. Cambridgeshire Emigrants to Australia

Further information on these services is recorded in the Cambridgeshire FHS

Journals which are available at the Society's Hobart library.

The launching of the TASMAN PENINSULA CHRONICLE, will be held at the Education Centre, Port Arthur, on Friday 26 September at 7.45pm. A collection of old photographs will be on display all weekend. The magazine intends publishing aspects of the district's history, 1825-1950.

People with Peninsula connections or interests are invited to contribute and subscribe.

Subscriptions : $4.80 each (posted) Twice a year.

Book Reviews

PIONEERS AT PIERMONT - Robert Webber and Family

By Frances Dorothy Travers. Printed by Elm and Ens Printing Service.
46 Wells Parade, Blackmans Bay and obtainable from the author. Cost $25.

Most members of the Tasmanian Genealogical Society here in Hobart know Frances for her devoted work to the Society as past secretary and as a private researcher, and realise the difficulties she faced finding time for her own book.

It is with pride and pleasure that we are at last able to read this interesting and well balanced book of her husband's family, the Webbers.

The preface shows the deep feeling she has for her children's ancestors, her children's children and those to follow, resulting in her decision to record now what she has researched for many years.

The story has its beginning in Dorset, England and continues with the departure of the family to Van Diemen's Land in 1826.

Robert Webber built the first Piermont in 1827 and the remains of what is thought to have been the old kitchen still stand at the rear of the present well known Piermont of today, built in 1838 in the Swansea district on the east coast of Tasmania.

The author concludes her book with pedigree and family charts, making it easier for the reader to follow the family up to the present time, without the all too common habit of some family history books of overcrowding the latter part with up to date pictures of the present day generation. The index is a welcome addition, a help to readers and researchers alike.

"MAURITIAN HERITAGE" An anthology of the LIONNET, COMMINS and related families. Edited by Edward Duyker. Published by the Australian Mauritian Research Group, 28 Napoleon Road, Fern Tree Gully, Victoria 3156 and available from them. Price $29.95 + $4. postage and packing for 1-2 copies.

This handsome appendicated book, though not directly associated with Tasmania, should find a wide audience. Its 400 pages with 190 illustrations cover the countries of France, England, Mauritius and Australia.

The two families are Lionnet from 17th century France, including surgeons on the high seas, and Commins, printers in the 18th century from Dorset, England.

These two far flung families unite in Mauritius, an island in the Indian Ocean, and the story of their life on the island makes interesting reading.

The narrative follows several members of these families to Australia during the gold rush in the 1850's and their subsequent return to Mauritius.

The final chapters tell of the four couples who migrated to Australia during the post war years and their lives up to the present time, which have made a large contribution to the story of the twelve thousand Mauritians now living in Australia.

Those who read this compelling book can look forward to reading more about Mauritius in Edward Duyker's next book, soon to be published: "Of the Star and the Key : Mauritius, Mauritians and Australia". This book will cover aspects of trading between Mauritius and Van Diemen's Land, plus convict transportation in the 1800's.
